Hurricane Beryl

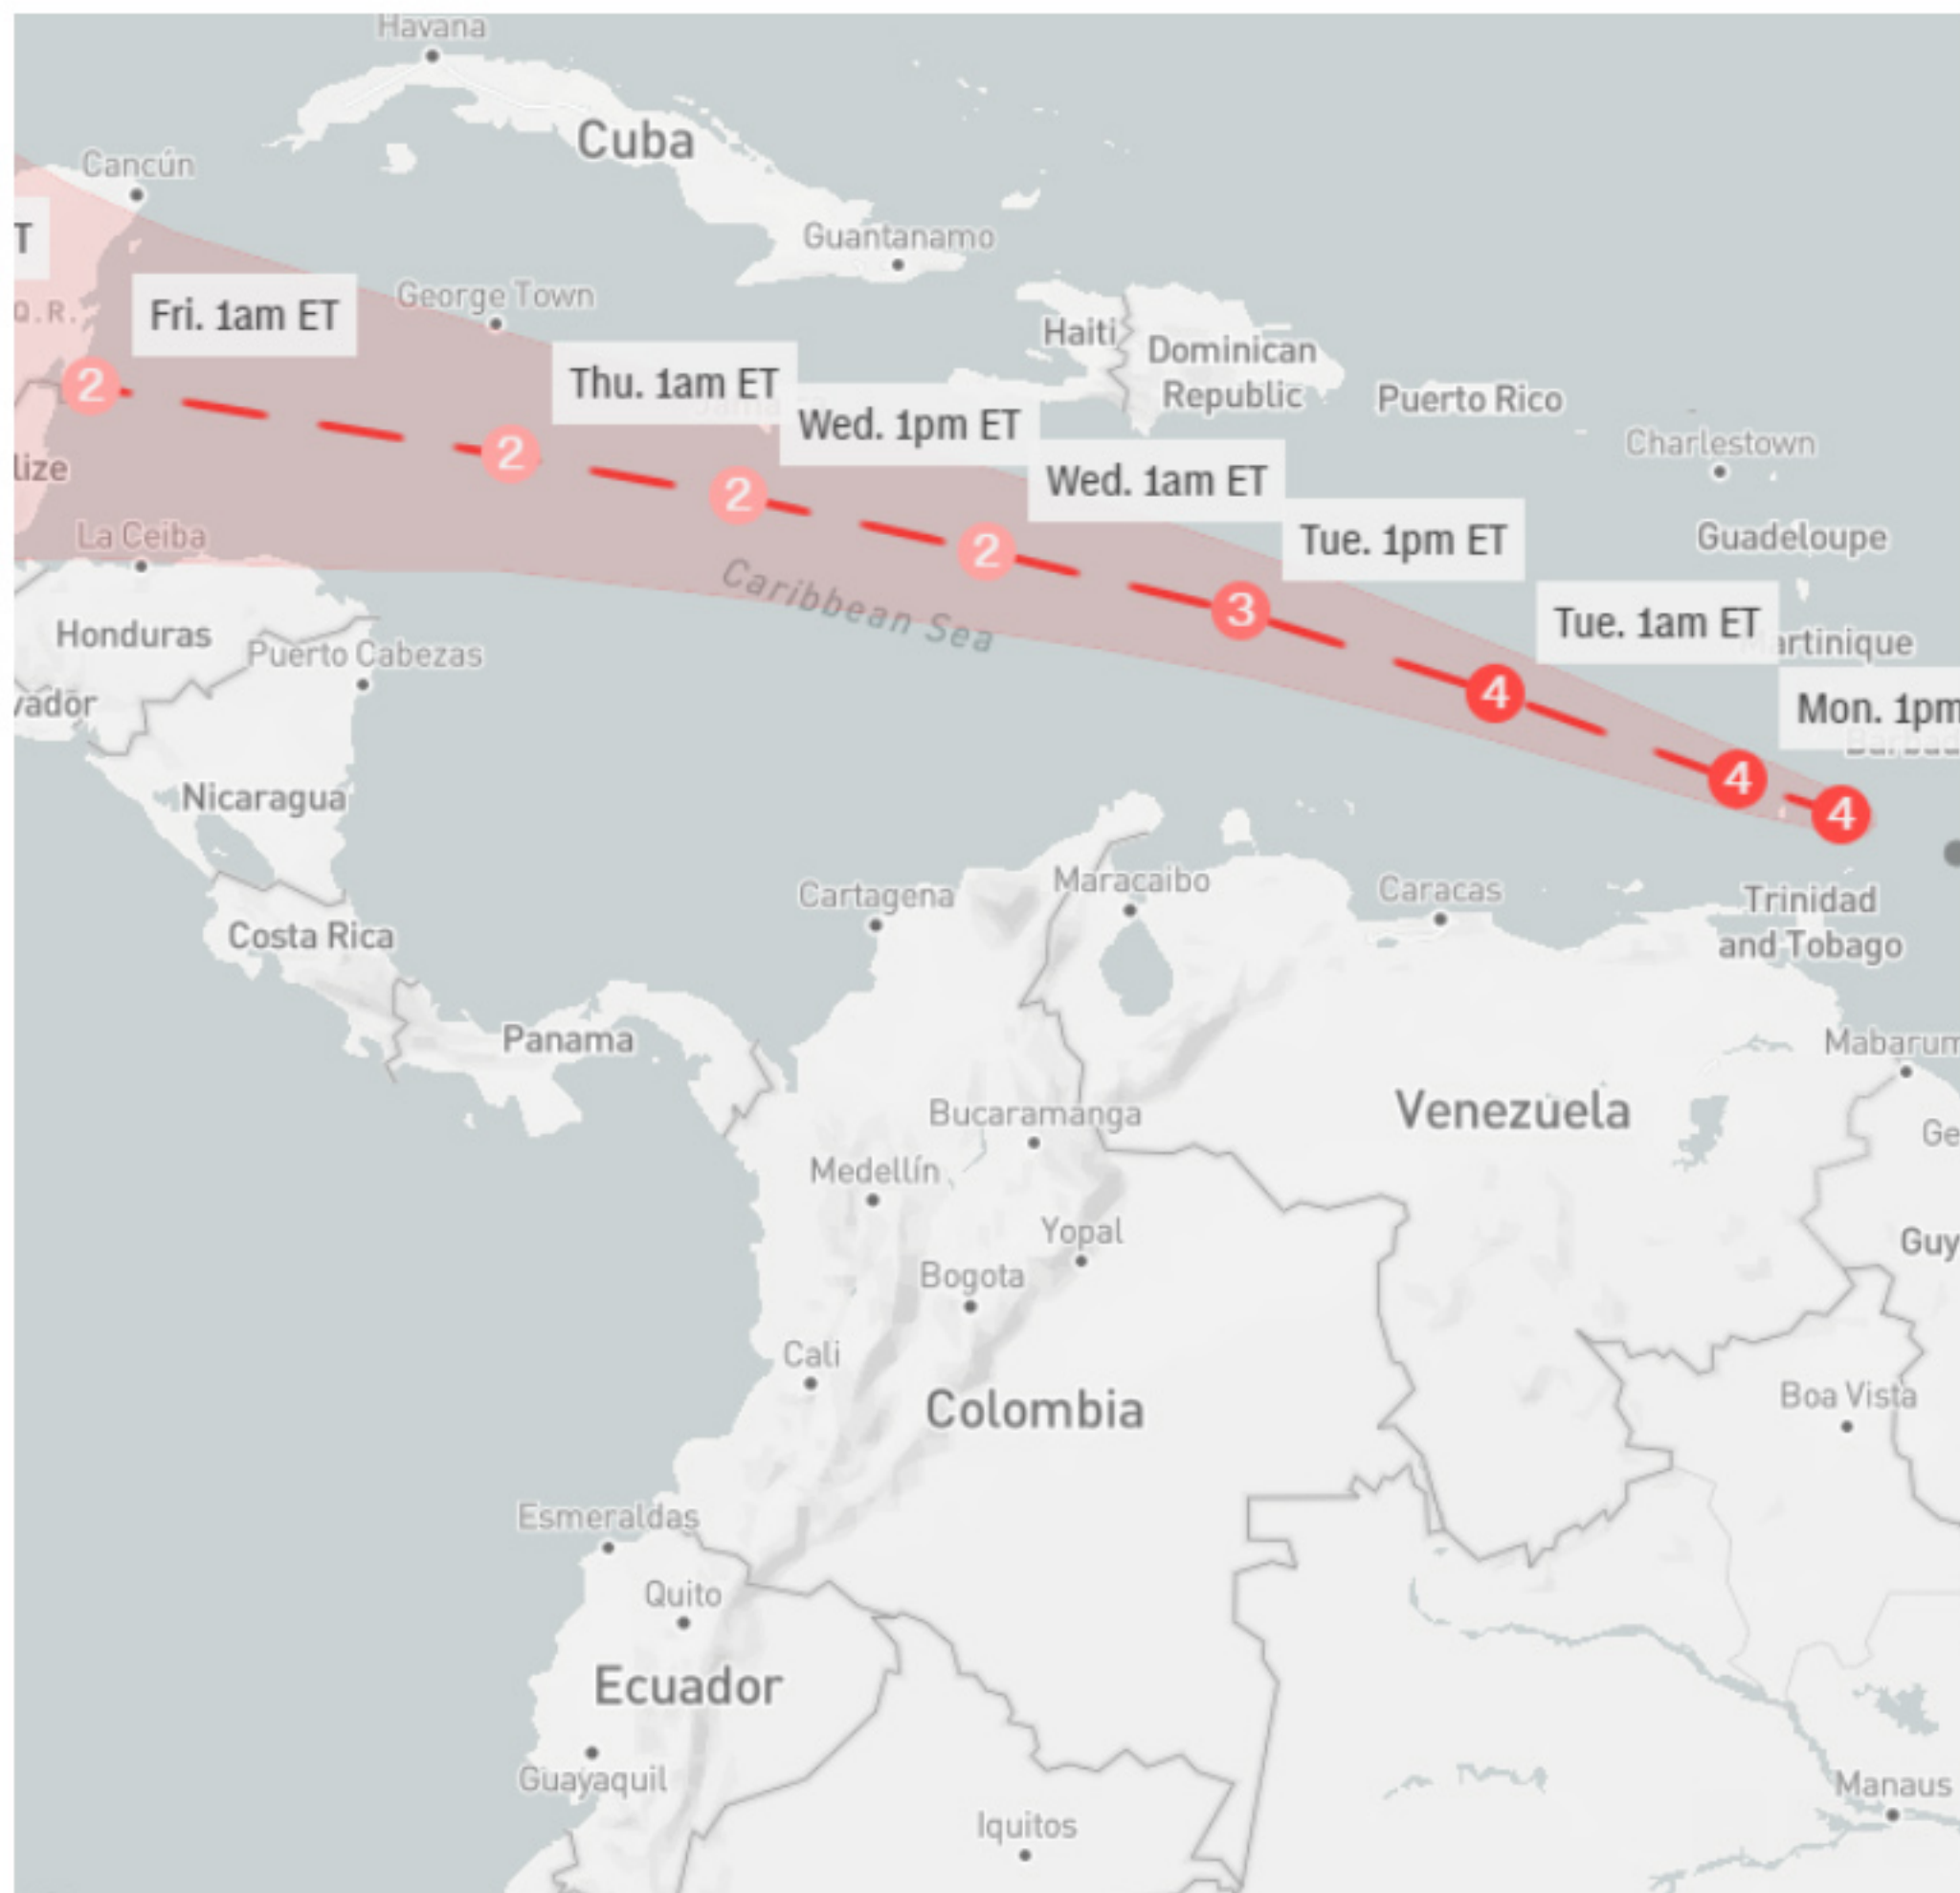

Hurricane Beryl strengthened again Monday morning into a Category 4.

Hurricane warnings are already in effect in Barbados, St. Lucia, Grenada, St. Vincent and the Grenadines and Tobago. Tropical storm warnings are in effect for Martinique and Trinidad, while a tropical storm watch is in effect in Dominica, the south coast of the Dominican Republic from Punta Palenque westward and the south coast of Haiti from the Dominican border to Anse d'Hainault..

Beryl is on track to move across the Windward Islands early on Monday before traveling through the southeastern Caribbean on Monday night and Tuesday.

Two hurricane hunters were in route to the storm to gather more details about its intensity, according to the National Hurricane Center.

Find below expected Beryl's path through the Caribbean, still remains uncertain.

We will keep posted.
